Some In-Sight-ful Comments on Vayeshev Rabbi Eliot Malomet December 17, 2022 23 Kislev 5783

Alex Colville, To Prince Edward Island, 1965 National Gallery of Canada, Ottawa

Look how significant seeing is in the first story of our parasha. The brothers see that of seeing, after all, what is a dream if not seeing something in your sleep state. When you see it you experience as something real. And the only way you can convey what you see in a dream is through storytelling. The narrator tells us what Joseph sees in his dream, and tells us what everybody else sees

Jacob loves Joseph the most. Jacob asks Joseph to go and see what is going on with the brothers as they pasture the flock in Shechem. At the critical moment of the story, the mid-point of the text, they see Joseph from a-far. When they conspire to kill him they say Let's see what becomes of his dreams.
Finally, after they throw him in the pit, they see a band of Ishmaelites coming from afar. What is the

37:4	ָנַיִּרָאָ וּ אֶתָּיו	His brothers saw
	בְּי־אֹתוֹ אָקָב אֲבִיהָם	that it was he whom their father loved
	מָבֶּל־אֶחָּיו	above all his brothers,
37:14	נַיָּאׁמֶר לוֹ	And he said to him:
	לֶד־נָּא רְאֵה אֶת־שְׁלְוֹם אַחֶּידְּ	Come, pray, see into the well-being of your brothers
	וְאֶת־שְׁלָוֹם הַצֹּאון	and into the well-being of the sheep,
37:18	ניָּרָאָוּ אֹתָוֹ מֵרָתִׂק	They saw him from afar,
	וּבְשֶׂרֶם יִקֶרָב אֲלֵיהָם	and before he had gotten near them,
	וַיֶּתְנַכְּלִוּ אֹתָוֹ לַהַמִּיתְוֹ:	they plotted-cunningly against him to cause his death.
37:20	וְאָמֶּרְנוּ חַיָּה רָעָה אַכֶּלֵתְהוּ	and say: An ill-tempered beast devoured him!
	וְנְרְאֶּה מַהֹּ־יִּהְיֻוֹּ חֲלֹמֹתֶגִיו:	Then we will see what becomes of his dreams!
37:25	ַנִיִּשְׁבוּ ֶּלֵאֶכֶל־לֶּחֶ ם	And they sat down to eat bread.
	ַניִּשְׂאָוּ עֵינֵיהֶם ׁ נִיְרְאוֹ	They lifted up their eyes and saw:
	וְהָנֵּה אֹרְחַת יִשְׁמְעֵאלִים	now here, a caravan of Yishmaelites
	בָּאָה מִגּלְעֻד	coming from Gil'ad,
	.1 .1.:	C + C.1 1.C C -1 T

purpose of all this seeing? The more the characters see things, the more we, the readers/listeners, also see things in this story. This is what makes this story great, and this is what makes the storytelling of this story so great. The narrator is expertly telling a story by enabling us to see in our imaginations what the characters see in the story. Moreover, the story is built on the theme right in front of them and far away from them. In turn, we get to see everything, as it is unfolding right before our eyes as if it were a play. Obvioulsy, from antiquity to our own day, people saw this theatrical quality to the story and adapted it in so many artistic ways. Are there other instances of lifting up eyes? Take a look at this list and see if you can identify all of this seeing

Some interesting observations: The expression lift up eyes occurs 14 times in the book of Genesis. Multiples of 7 always catch our attention. In only one instance there is lifting up eyes without seeing. That takes place in our parasha when Potifar's wife, lifts up her eyes upon Joseph. Why doesn't the text say that she saw him? Abarbanel: she was pleading with him. The same way the psalmist peads to God without having to specify seeing. (Psalm 123:1 אַלידָּ נשָאתִי אָת־עִינֵי and also 121:1 אַשַּׂא עֵינֵי אַל־הָהָרִים - in both those instances, there is lifting up of eyes but not seeing. And both of those are the expression of deep longing, which is what is going on here.) We might point out that in 37:18 the brothers is see Joseph without lifting up their eyes. Why? This indicates that they were just 13:10	ָנ יִּשֶׂא ִ־לְוֹט אֶת־ עִינִיו נַיַּרְא ֹ	Lot lifted up his eyes and saw	Lot looking out at the richly watered Jordanian plain.

13:14	שָׂא גָא עִינֶּידְּ וּרְאֵׂה	Pray lift up your eyes and see	God tells Abram to look at the land that is being promised.
18:2	נַיָּשָׂאַ עֵינֶיוֹ נַבּּׁרָא	He lifted up his eyes and saw	Abraham sees the visitors. They far away but also near.
22:4	ַנ יִּש ְּׁא אַבְרָקָם אֶת־עֵינֵיו נַיַּרָא	Avraham lifted up his eyes and saw	Abraham sees the place where he is to offer Isaac, Mount Moriah.
22:13	וִיּשְּׂא אַבְרָכִּם אֶת־עֵינִיו וַיִּרָאׂ	Avraham lifted up his eyes and sa w	Abraham sees the ram caught in the thicket by its horns.
24:63	ניִּשָּׂא עֵינָיוֹ וַיַּּרָא	He lifted up his eyes and saw	Isaac sees the camels coming with Rebekah.
24:64	נ תּשָׂא רַבְּקֶּה אֶת־ עִינֶּיהָ וַהַּרָא	And Rivka lifted up her eyes and saw	Rebekah sees Isaac from a distance while she is traveling.
31:10	ָנאָשָׂא עֵיגֵי נָאָרָא	that I lifted up my eyes and saw	Jacob tells Rachel and Leah his dream vision of the flocks.
31:12	שָׂא־נָּא עֵיגֶיף וּרְאַה	Pray lift up your eyes and see	The angel speaks to Jacob in his dream telling him to see.
33:1	נַיָּשָּׂא יַעְלְב עֵינִּיו וַיַּרָא	Yaakov lifted up his eyes and saw	Jacob sees Esau coming toward him with 400 men.
33:5	וַיָּשָׂאַ אֶת־ עֵינָיוּ וַיָּרָא	Then he lifted up his eyes and saw	Esau sees Jacob's wives and children.
37:25	֖֖֖֖֖֖֖֖֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓֓	They lifted up their eyes and saw	The brothers see the band of Ishmaelites.
39:7	ַתִּשָׂאַ אֲשֶׁת־ אֲדֹנֵיו אֶת־ עִינֵיהָ	his lord's wife lifted her eyes	Potifar's wife casts her eyes upon Joseph and tries to seduce him.
43:29	וִיּשֶּׂא עֵינִּיוּ וַיִּרָא	He lifted up his eyes and saw	Joseph sees Benjamin and breaks down.

minding their own business. They were involved in other matters. We might note that they returned to the Shechem area, the scene of their slaughter of the Hivites. (Gen. 34). In all the other instances of lifting eyes there is a sense that the lifters of eyes have a distinct desire or interest in seeing something. Here, the brothers have no desire to see Joseph. He appears as a complete surprise to them. Their desire to kill him is all the more heinous because it is impulsive and visceral, solely based on seeing him from a distance.

Joseph The Favorite Prisoner; the Chief Cup-Bearer and the Chief Baker

Why does Joseph get favored-prisoner-status in jail? The text tells us that God was with Joseph. Fair enough. But if we dig a little deeper we discover that there are other factors. Potifar, the Sar HaTabahim, to whom Joseph is sold, is also, the head of the prisons. (See 39:1 and 40:3). Even Potifar would have known that there were plenty of mitigating circumstances when Joseph appeared naked

נִיּמֵּן שַּׂר בֵּית־הַפּּהַרֹ בְּיַד־יוֹסֵׁף אֲת כָּל־
הָאָסִירָׁם אֲשֶׁר בְּבֵית הַסְּהַר וְאֵּת כָּל־־
אשר עשים שם הוא היה עשה: ל:כב

And the dungeon warden put in Joseph's hands all the prisoners who were in the dungeon house; whatever had to be done there, it was he that did it. Gen. 39:22 outside his house. With his wife, he knew what he was dealing with. With Joseph, he knew that he couldn't let such a prodigious talent slip through his hands. For the sake of his domestic life he had to side with his wife, but for the sake of his own personal advancement, he had to keep Joseph alive so that he exploit him as much as possible. That is why Joseph is made chief prisoner. Like Andy Dufresne in The Shawshank Redemption, Joseph is trapped. He has privileges but no freedom. He will stay in prison for as long as he can be useful to the Potifar. He came to Egypt as a slave, and it is only worse in prison. Even (spoiler) when he is released from prison and elevated to be Pharoah's first minister, he is still very much a slave. He has wealth, privilege, and all the trappings of power except the most important thing: freedom. He can't do anything without Pharaoh's permission.

Why did they end up in jail? The Rabbis (BR 88:2) claim that they both committed different types of infractions. The cup-bearer brought Pharaoh a drink that had a fly in it. The baker brought him bread that had a stone in it. How are these different? A fly in a drink is an accident. A stone in a bread is negligence, or maybe even intentional! Thus the baker receives the death penalty, while the cup-bearer is exonerated. R. Evyatar based his interpretation on the word sin. They both wanted to marry (ie. had sexual desire for)

רַבַּנֵן אַמְרֵי: Our rabbis said: שר הַמַּשִׁקִים - זְבוּב נִמְצָא בְּתוֹךְ פְּיָלֵי פּוֹטִירִין שֶׁלּוֹ, שַׂר הָאוֹפִים - צְרוֹר נִמְצָא בְּתוֹךְ גְלוּסְקֹין שֶׁלּוֹ, הַדָא הוּא דְכָתִיב (בראשית מ':א'): חָטָאוּ מַשָּׁקָה מֶלֶךְ מְצְרַיִם וְהָאֹפָה לאדניהם, בתשמיש אדוניהם. רַבִּי אֶבְיָתָר אָמַר בַּקשׁוּ לַהָּוַדְוַג לַבְתּוֹ שֵׁי נאַמַר כַּאן חַטְאוּ, וָנֶאֱמֶר לְהַלָּן (בראשית ל"ט:ט'): ָוְאֵידְ אֶעֱשֶׂה וגו' וְחָטָאתִי לַאלֹהִים. How then could I do this most wicked

The Cup-Bearer - a fly was found in the vial of poterion a medicinal drink of his. The Chief Baker - a pebble was found in his delicate bread. This is what is written (Gen. 40:1) The cup-bearer of the king of Egypt and the baker sinned to their lord -in the service of their lord." Rabbi Evyatar said: They sought to marry the king's daughter it says here they sinned and it says there (Gen. 39.9).

Pharaoh's daughter. Probably not a good thing. But why would the baker be executed and the cup-bearer set free? We don't have a good answer. Rashi rejects that R. Evyatar and only cites the Rabbis' reason.

וַיָהֶרן בַּיִּוֹם הַשְּׁלְישִׁי יַוֹם הַלֶּדֶת אֱת־פַּרְעֹה וַיַּעשׁ מִשְׁתַּה לכַל־עַבַדָיו... בר׳ מ:כ And thus it was, on the third day, Pharaoh's birthday, that he made a great drinkfest for all his servants... Gen. 40:20 Did Joseph know the royal calendar? Do the Cup-Bearer and the Baker also know it? In a palace environment, everyone thing, and sin before God?

knows the king's birthday. To this day, Queen Victoria's birthday is still celebrated in a certain North American country, (and she's been dead for 121 years!) Place your bets that in the UK (and probably Canada as well) there will be an annual holiday to commemorate the late Queen Elizabeth II (z"l). Birthdays of leaders are well-known especially to people who work in the bureacracy. (President Biden's was two weeks ago). Everyone would have known that Pharaoh's birthday was coming up. Surely, the Cup-Bearer and the Baker would have had alot of anxiety about this day because their services would have been in demand and their absence would have been felt. Unsurprisingly then, they dream about returning to the palace. But while the Cup-Bearer's dream is upbeat, the Baker's is ominous. Joseph accords the interpretation of the dream to God, and hints that he has a special power of interpretation. But a) he also knows the royal calendar and b) he is also astute enough to size up these two characters. The greatness of this story is that the dreams come from God, but a remarkable human being figures out how everything will unfold. SHABBAT SHALOM!

> Dear Malene Herman, Mazel Tov to you on the occasion of your special birthday! With wishes of health and happiness! Love, Your Friends.