Becoming Elijah: Prophet of Transformation

with

Daniel C. Matt

A talk in honor of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Rabbi Hershel J. Matt, z”l

Becoming Elijah: Prophet of Transformation

(recently awarded the inaugural Rabbi Jonathan Sacks Book Prize, established by Yeshiva University)

In the Bible, Elijah is a zealous prophet, attacking false gods. He performs miracles and is finally carried off to heaven in a fiery chariot. How did this fierce zealot turn into a compassionate superhero, the most popular figure in Jewish folklore and herald of the Messiah, who is anticipated at every Seder and invoked at every Havdalah?

Sunday, March 26th at 11 AM
at the Temple

All Welcome

Light Refreshments (starting at 10:30 a.m.)

No Cost

Dr. Daniel Matt is a scholar of Kabbalah and the Zohar. Among his books are: The Essential Kabbalah (translated into eight languages), God and the Big Bang, and his 9-volume, annotated translation of the Zohar (The Zohar: Pritzker Edition), which has been hailed as “a monumental contribution to the history of Jewish thought.”

In the last year Dr. Matt’s biography of Elijah the Prophet was published in Yale’s series Jewish Lives: Becoming Elijah, Prophet of Transformation. Dr. Matt lives in Berkeley and currently teaches Zohar online (danielcmatt.com).
