MERYL FRANK

"Zechor, remember, is the eleventh commandment of all Holocaust survivors and their children. Meryl Frank fulfills that commandment to its fullest. Her book is a must-read to understand what it was like to have lived, struggled, fought, and died in Vilna and its surroundings."

—Abe Foxman, Holocaust survivor and national director emeritus of the Anti-Defamation League

"Ms. Frank makes effective use of the work of historians of Eastern Europe.... A tale of tears and a story of survival and of the resilience of remembrance.... Meryl Frank has crafted a history based in careful research and hopes that she has raised our moral awareness about the current dangers of persecution."

—The Wall Street Journal
