

Stuffy Sleepover and Shavuot Study Session, 2025

First we posed for a photo together - we're so excited to spend the night!

Then we helped Leah tidy up the social hall. We needed to work together here.

Next we headed to the library.

We decided to look for a book to help remind us what Shavuot is. We carefully used a chair to climb up and grab a book about Jewish Holidays.

Together, we read through and learned about the holiday where we celebrate receiving the Torah.

We are looking forward to joining in the traditional all night study session, called Leil Tikkun Shavuot.

Then we took a break and practiced our Hebrew with a game of Scrabble.

We continued reading, this time some fiction novels.

We broke into smaller groups to pick different stories.

Finally we decided to get ready for Maariv. We are a little early and will wait for the grownups who are joining tonight.

Chag Sameach!
